Edited by David Hanson and Graeme L Warboys

Andromeda Editrice 2004

Managing Mountain Protected Areas presents experience from around the world on a diverse set of issues related to the special circumstances of managing PAs in mountainous areas. Among the subjects are landscape-level initiatives, corridors, transboundary PAs, biodiversity, partnerships, wilderness, recreation, visitor impacts, and financing, among others. The book originated in a workshop held in South Africa's Drakensberg mountains in conjunction the 2003 World Parks Congress and gives the results of a series of workshops held prior to the 5th World Parks Congress, Durban, ZA, 8-17 September 2003.
