

about the author

SEEPOR consultancy is a consulting agency for social sciences. It has a core group of four professionals: a rural sociologist, a resource economist, an environmental engineer, and a social ecologist. SEEPOR also has a roster of 60 highly qualified professionals available on request. Besides consultancy, SEEPOR also conducts socioeconomic and ethno-political research, organizes training, and publishes books on contemporary socioeconomic and ethno-political issues

